Upcoming Survey

You may have heard the district is in the process of building a new middle school, which will open in September 2022. In the near future, we can look forward to learning some details about how that will impact instruction and staffing throughout the district. To guide this process, the district wants to hear from you about your current job assignment and your preferences going forward. Please look for a survey coming soon, and when it arrives please fill it out so you can have some input into your situation.

Maternity Workshop

After a year hiatus, our annual Maternity Workshop returns. Please email Aimee Avellino if you're interested in attending Wednesday, November 17th at 4pm via Zoom.
